My amazing sister was a great role model and friend. She knew herself very well and what she wanted. After choosing hospice over any medical tests or treatments, she left out world quickly and peacefully while communicating with her loved ones until her final breath. She felt the love and support of Patti, Carol and Ron as they walked her home. Always the dignified lady, she was still described as a "force" by some members of her community. She was also a force of love to many of us. Thanks for showing us the way to live and the way to die, Nance. Don't forget how much we all love you.

“ Nana was the backbone to our family! She was such an amazing, beautiful, inspirational person. She was always willing to help- even watch her great grandchildren for me when I had work- and they loved going to Nana Chickens bc she played games and baked with them! I definitely know I got a lot of her spunk, courage and the ability to put on a good face. She's taught be to be strong, be yourself, and it's ok to do it alone! My Nana was all of our biggest supporters bc that was just her! I will miss her deeply but knowing she went on her in terms is inspiring. She was at peace with her decision, she was ok with this, she ended her life the way she wanted. Still inspiring us to just be true to ourselves as she was! I love u forever nana and thank you for instilling yourself on me! My nana nooner and my kids nana chicken. Always missed but never forgotten ❤️

“ When Nancy passed, the world lost a very lovely, bright, and independent woman. Although she evidently didn't share my love of Ronald Reagan, she did love my dad, which was a beautiful thing. I'm sure Nancy is in heaven now, and my family and I wish her eternal peace and happiness. We'll all miss you Nancy, and please give my dad a hug for me. God bless.
