“ Tom, Frankie, Jaime, Anthony and extended Family. Please accept our condolences during your time of sorrow. I pray that you are all blessed with the strength to carry you through. Stay strong as your soulmate/mother was as trust she is watching from above and still guiding and protecting you all. Find comfort in knowing she is finally free from pain and suffering and at peace. She will be greatly missed by many. Another Bright Shinning Star / Angel in the Sky. Keep those Heads Held High as She did and would want. Love you all, Ter

“What ever you give comes back to you 10 fold.” “Count your Blessings, not you're sorrows.” “You know you're my favorite? Just don't tell the others...” -Mom To cage a soul like my Mothers' is to cage the last surviving animal of a species. She was unique and brave, sweet and beautiful, caring and giving, Mom was the best. Losing My Mom at the young age of 51 is one of the worst feelings ever. Through my short life, I have wished, hoped, and got to my knees and prayed for her so much more then I could believe could ever have panned out. I know that shes not in pain and that is an overwhelming Blessing. Of it all, the thought of having to wait so long to see her again and the many more Life Memories without her here to share in, is gut wrenching. I think the one thing I have to do is Thank God for giving My Mom to Me. This hurts so bad because I was Lucky to have Her. Because she was so good. So genuine and unique. So beautiful and great to be beside. I close this with something My Mother and I have shared when departing eachother, throughout our lives: "I Love You With All My Heart, Until The Day I die... And Past That."
