

Carole J. Cameli

May 11, 1945 - April 27, 2021

Carole J. Cameli (nee Godfrey) on April 27, 2021 of Mullica Hill. Age 75. Wife of Joseph C. Cameli Jr. of Mullica Hill. Loving mother of Ronda Cameli (John) of Sewell, Christine Giordano (Kevin) of Sewell, Joseph C. Cameli III (Patsy) of Gibbstown. Sister of Elaine Atkinson of Mantua and predeceased by Marion Alcott, Edward Godfrey, and Robert Godfrey. Devoted grandmother of Ricky (Nicole), Anthony, and Joseph.

Carole was the Co-Owner of United Fuel Oil in Gibbstown before retiring. She enjoyed spending time overlooking the ocean in Sea Isle City. In her spare time, she enjoyed fishing and crabbing, gardening, completing jigsaw puzzles, as well as playing games on her I-pad. She enjoyed chatting on the phone with friends, family, and children. Carole was an avid baker and cook, often hosting numerous holidays and get togethers for her family and friends. Lastly, her greatest accomplishment was raising her family and spending quality time with her children and grandchildren.

Services and Entombment Private.

“ Carole was thee best M-I-L ever. She had treated me with love, caring, and true respect. There wasn't anything she couldn't do for her family and me. Her Roast Pork dinner could not be beat along with her pies, cakes, and Christmas Cookies. I cannot say how much I miss this fantastic and loving person. I and her family have lost a true treasure. I love and miss you so much! God take great care of her; you truly have an Angel. 🙏🙏🙏❤️🌹

Our deepest condolences to all of you during this time when God just seems to call us in when we least expect it. Carol and I met in kindergarten and we ended back together again in my junior year at Paulsboro. Even though I haven't seen her for along while because I have been caregiver for my mother for years now but I thought of her many times and hoping she was happy and contented. May she be at peace and with loved ones. Our prayers are with you all at this time and hoping that you can rest in knowing she will not suffer anymore. Love Patty & Rick Licciardello and Mrs. Banks.
