“ Dom, I will always cherish the memories we created together at the Rizzi farm. Staying overnight at the mancave, cooking enough food for an army, watching hunting videos to brush up on our skills for the big hunt the next morning and most of all trying to get a good night's rest while pop pop was snoring away. Great memories fishing in Wildwood. I could list the memories for days. You will be forever in my heart. Love you forever. Rest in peace Dominouch

“ Dom was a kind kid for the years I seen him at delsea, I work in the cafeteria and he always was smiling and laughing with his friends. He graduated with my nephew and never didn't say hi or have a great weekend. I'll remember him as the kind gentleman he was and the kindness he showed others. Rip Dom gone go soon 🙏🙏

“ Dom...my little buddy. Being your aunt was one of the great pleasures of my life. Soft, sweet smile. The love for anything with an engine always amazed me. Even at the age of about 5 you could name any vehicle that passed. You could ride a lawn tractor around the yard, hanging on the one side so you could reach the gas at the age of 3. You had such a kind soul. I'm still sorry for making you think you would love the Ferris wheel in Wildwood....you were fearless with most anything but we certainly didn't do that 2x. My heart is crushed to not be able to see where your kindness and talents would take you in this world. At this moment, I'm banking on faith that you are making some dust clouds in the heavens above. Rest easy little man....or Dominouch as we often called you. Love you forever.

“ It has been heartbreaking to hear of Dom's passing. I had Dom as a student in 6th grade, and I will always remember his love of his friends and love of laughter. It has been nice to hear how those values continued years later, and I know he will be missed dearly.

“ Sending my condolences to the family!!! This young man will always bring a smile to my face. You see one day my son’s engine blew and was stuck on the side of the road. Dom came quickly to Joziah’s aid, as I couldn’t get there quick enough. I was astonished that this young man went out of his way to help my son and acted like it was just a simple act of kindness because Joziah was his friend. He was polite as can be. And I had always admired the fact that he wore those cowboy boots!!! Rest in man young man. Thank you again!!!!

“ I met Dom through his friends, with my younger niece being in their circle. Dom was the nicest kid I had ever met. So polite, funny, and willing to do anything for anyone. This one really hurt our family, as he was a favorite of ours. I'll miss seeing him at games, working around the yard, and hearing his overly-loud vehicles driving by the house. He was a special person in every respect. Rest in Peace, Dom. Hope to see you again.

“ There are a thousand things I could say about Dominic, but the simplest truth is this: he was my nephew and, at challenging times in his childhood, my sidekick and student.

When he was little, and life wasn't always fair to him, we made our own world. Every day after homework (which, let's be honest, wasn't his favorite thing), we had something sacred—"Play Time." We read "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" together, and it made perfect sense that Dominic loved Huck—a sharp mind, a rebel heart, and a kid who could make his own way even when the odds weren't in his favor—that was Dominic.

I watched him push himself, whether it was chasing the Honor Roll for that first motorcycle promised by "Pop Pop Larry" or pulling staggering weights off the floor in powerlifting. He was a natural deadlifter—raw strength, no hesitation, just determination.

And in the moments in between, there were the simple joys: hours of video games, swinging for the fences in "MLB: The Show", summer afternoons eating mulberries straight from the trees in the yard—his tree, my tree; and walking through the wooded trails talking. He was supposed to have so many more summers.

And though it was far too short, I am grateful for every moment of it that I got to share with him.

Rest easy, Dom. You will always be a part of me.

Love,
Your Uncle, David
