

Edith S. Brown

November 19, 1925 - April 5, 2009

View Edith's Video Tribute Edith S. Brown, age 83, found her peace on April 5, 2009 at South Jersey Healthcare Elmer Hospital. Born and raised at Commack, Long Island. Edith also lived in Grenloch, Haddonfield, Turnersville and Lehigh Acres, Florida. She was a resident of Mullica Hill for the past 20 years. Edith believed in rising early, taking long walks, working hard and helping those in need. She was a naturalist who studied the habits and migration patterns of birds and kept a list of every new species she saw. An avid reader, she stayed current with the latest developments in politics and science. Her lifelong interest in people made waitress work a pleasant occupation. Many customers looked forward to her smiling presence and they became lifelong friends. Edith was predeceased by her husband, James G. Brown, Sr., in 1988. She is survived by her daughter Patricia Knorr (Harry) of Mullica Hill, her son, James G. Brown, Jr. (Joan) of Milmay. Grandmother of Harry Knorr (Yvonne), Warren Knorr (Kelly), both of Mullica Hill and Darleen Knorr of West Deptford. Seven great-grandchildren. Interment private. A Memorial Service will be held at a later date.
