“ *Debby,
I am so sorry for your loss friend.
I remember your Mom well back in the day when we were in school..
I only wish we didn't have to go through the loss of a Mother,.. I is a difficult.. Thing to overcome
I would love to attend. I unfortunately can't, no car. I will be with you in my thoughts and prayers. Sending blessings to all your family.
Love, Debbie Lozuke*

“ Eleanor, I love you now & always. I am so happy that you finally have peace & joy at home with God , your husband & son. You taught me so much over the years: helping me grieve my son, showing me that old age can be a blessing as you always stayed true to yourself. I will never forget our sleepovers, your morning coffee breaks with me in the summers, our beach & boardwalk days. My children (all 3), enjoyed being with you. Collin & Gavin are very sad right now. Saying goodbye to you last week was so hard. You looked so peaceful. Our lives are blessed knowing you. We love you so much. Love, Brandon, Jenine, Collin & Gavin

“ Eleanor will forever be the joy, happiness, kindness, love and humor life brings as she has touched my heart and so many others. Her storytelling genuine character brought smiles and laughs. I am unfortunately not able to attend the services, but I am blessed to have had a special visit August 15, 2015 with Eleanor before my move to Florida as she encouraged me to always follow my dreams and own heart expressing her endless support. Love always!
