

Elwood H. Flemming

November 21, 1929 - February 27, 2021

Elwood H. Flemming “Bud” on February 27, 2021 of Audubon. Age 91.

Bud was a loving, devoted husband who cherished every moment with his wonderful wife Dorothy (Cleary). He was a true gentlemen and patriot.

A Proud, Dedicated, Beloved Father who displayed unconditional love and a Heart of Gold for his three children who he affectionately referred to as “His Gang”

Deborah Monforto and her husband John of Audubon, Teresa Aitken of Woodstown, Robert Flemming (Chief) and his wife Dawn of Woodstown and late children Kathleen and Thomas.

A loving grandfather and willing role model to his nine grandchildren, Elizabeth, Douglas, Leslie Ann, Christine, Thomas, Amanda, Deborah, Erin and Joseph, seven great grandchildren, nieces, nephews, friends & family. He is survived by his three sisters, Marge Hoopes of Runnemedede, Patricia Arensberg (Joe) of Maple Shade, Carol Scott of Gloucester.

Bud was an easy going adventurer who loved to travel. He loved horse racing, casinos, golfing, softball, bowling and he was an avid Phillies and Eagles fan. He was employed as a highly accredited NASA certified welder, ship fitter, steel worker and carpenter.

He had many accomplishments within his life but the biggest were his aluminum church steeple in Centerton, NJ (still standing today) and Delaware River Tug Boat in Camden, NJ, (still being used today). Bud single-handedly crafted and completed both projects listed above. Dedicated coach and mentor to youth for years at the Rosedale Boys Club.

The hunt is on for the $180.00

It gets wet? What gets wet?
