

Jean F. Mangano

October 26, 1931 - July 22, 2022

Jean F. Mangano (nee Palumbo) on July 22, 2022 of Deptford. Age 90. Wife of the late Joseph A. Mangano. Beloved mother of Josephine Mangano of Deptford. Cherished sister of the late Mary Taraschi (late Bernard) and sister in-law of Josephine Polizzi (late George), Dorothy Bonadies (late Joseph), Rita Lawson (late Jerome), and the late Jean DeCandia (late Lawrence). Survived by numerous nieces, nephews, great nieces, great nephews, and close family friends.

Jean owned and operated Gloucester Cold Cuts also known as “Hoagie Joe’s” with her husband, Joseph until 1996. In addition, she was an Avon Representative for 24 years and worked at Lane Bryant in the Deptford Mall as a Merchandiser for 18 years. She graduated from South Philly High School for girls in 1949 and got married in 1955. Jean later moved to Gloucester City in 1961. She enjoyed going to the movies, beach and the boardwalk, shopping, cooking, and good food. Jean loved her family above all else and was devoted to all.

“ My Aunt Jean was not just my Aunt but much, much more than that. She was my Godmother, and to be completely honest my 2nd mother. I loved to make her laugh especially when my brothers and I were arguing. She always brightened my day whenever she was around. Her relationship with Uncle Joe was also very special often making me laugh when they would disagree or debate topics of the day. If my uncle needed to be corrected, Aunt Jean was always ready.

Being my mother's sister, i cannot remember a holiday, vacation, birthday, or any special occasion when my Godmother was not with us. For my birthday EVERY year, she never failed to make me my favorite "Ice Box" cake.

I will remember her always and miss the times we were together. Rest peacefully Aunt Jean! Love you forever.
