Our campground/flea market, casino buddy. Our girl who loved to celebrate life so much she would throw a party for all her family and friends for whatever reason every chance she got. To just say "generous" can never describe it....basket making....charities...Angel of God. Joan would send me umbrellas in one form or another in my saddest or darkest moments to let me know she wanted to shelter me and keep me safe. Well, Joan....thank you for all the umbrellas but I won't need them anymore. You are now a rainbow and every time I see one, I will remember you. It's incredible how much we miss you already. Our deepest sympathy to all of your beautiful family. Thanks for making us a part of your beautiful life. Love, Pat & Al.

“Joanie and I were good friends in high school. We even started a sorority together with other classmates. I remember parties at her home where we played spin the bottle and gossip. Wish I kept more in touch with her over the years, but thanks to Dawn's posts, I got to talk to her. Bless your soul, Joanie, my old friend. I love you. We had some fun times. Condolences to her entire family. What a sad day.”
