“ I've learned so many things from you throughout the years. I'm going to miss our conversations about sports, girls, and life. You always brought a smile to my face even on my worst days. I really have NO IDEA how we are all going to continue on without you here with us. I'm trying to be strong, just like you have always been, but my heart is broken. You were an incredible husband, an amazing father, a wonderful grandfather, the coolest great grandfather, and most of all, a loving friend. Your generosity and kind heart will be remembered by me forever. If I become half the man you were, I will be lucky. Thank you for teaching me about the right path to head down. I will not let you down. I'll never forget you. I LOVE YOU POP!!!
