“ Dear Gennovario Family, Last Night on my way to my sister's home I passed Johnny's home. For years I have passed it and wondered how he was, and recently have had a tugging at my heart to stop and see him. In fact I did not know if John was still with us. I though it would be an intrusion of his privacy and I was not even sure the family was still in the home. I have lived in Deptford since 1959 and Johnny always kept my family on the road, no matter what the circumstances were, and always delivered our car to our home. My father Bob Kingston loved Johnny and often would spend time just talking with John at the station. We even had a picture my dad took of John at the station around 1962. I have known " Johnny " since I was a little boy and always felt inside a profound deep respect for him. He was such a beautiful, kind man. I consider him an Icon of Deptford. So last night My sister Barbara and I talked about " Johnny" and I told her about the " Tugging " inside me to stop and see him. She called me about a half an hour ago and told me he had passed. Goodbye " Johnny". Here's to a life well lived. Thank You for your example of kindness, integrity, love and service to the people of Deptford. Walter Kingston

“ Sorry to hear of the passing of Mr Gennovario. His love of his family was always a nice discussion at the gas station. The kind, compassion and big heart will always be remembered as with all the times he helped at the gas station. May his memory give you all peace & smiles!
