“ Blanche and family, Please accept my deepest condolences. I am so very sorry to learn of your loss of your beloved Larry. Blanche, my memories of Larry center around your and my shared days of employment at the Spectrum and the summer and holiday functions. Larry was charming, kind, engaging and interested in what others had to say, and he was clearly devoted to and madly in love with you. The two of you were an amazing and admired couple. A favorite memory of mine is the time I came to your house before one of the summer picnics. Your and Larry's home was lovely not just due to it's location and furnishings, it was lovely because love was present and felt as I crossed your threshold. My heart is breaking for you. Having lost my beloved John, I know the pain of losing one you love like no other. He was more than your husband, more than the father of your children, more than your best friend, he was your very breath, your very heartbeat. If you'd like to talk to a contemporary, please get in touch with me through Denise Massaro. I'd love to hear from you again and I'd be honored to hold your hand through the journey ahead of you. RIP, Larry. May your memories bring you both comfort and strength. Much love, Marilyn Smolen
