“ A picture, they say is worth a thousand words, and as you can see by all the pictures of my father’s life, a million words couldn’t begin to describe his character. A husband, a father, a brother, a great friend; he was someone who was there for you no matter what. He was a wonderful provider for his family and a true patriot to his country. No one will ever forget the kindness he had for all he knew. Daddy will never have to suffer anymore; he is at peace with the rest of the angels who have left us. I will never forget the morals and work ethic he taught us. It will be hard measuring up to the man he was to us he was a great man. So rest easy Daddy, I love you.

“ I know for certain that we never lose the people we love, even to death. They continue to participate in every act, thought and decision we make. Their love leaves an indelible imprint in our memories. We find comfort in knowing that our lives have been enriched by having shared their love.

You don't get over it, you just get through it. You don't get by it, because you can't get around it. It doesn't 'get better'; it just gets different. Everyday... Grief puts on a new face...

“ Dear Mary Ann, Lenny, Michael, Adam, and family, you are all in our thoughts and prayers during this hard time. We're sure he is an angel now watching over all of you. We have great memories of Len and his "sense of humor". We laugh often at his childhood stories of torturing and agitatating Walt, and we're glad that Leonard touched our lives.
