“ Lisa is one of my real life hero's. I use her picture and her story to help people I counsel at our charity. It helps them see someone who was committed and courageous to fight the battle with all of her faith. Our clients realize there is a way out with me sharing her story. Prayers and strength for the entire family, love you all.

“ With my deepest and sincerest condolences, my heart goes out to the Corthell family. After losing my baby brother just two weeks ago this was definitely along with that a hard pill to swallow. Lisa was my mentor who guided me from the disease of Addiction into the path I now follow of Sobriety. I Thank the family for allowing their love one to have such a powerful impact on my life as well as others. She was definitely my go to girl because of her strength. Lisa I will miss my talks with you but your presence mentally will always live on. Sleep easy. The struggle you once had is now over. You are free from everything.
