“ I am so sorry for your loss. He truly was a great person and teacher! Although, I only knew him during the time he was my martial arts instructor In Turnersville, I learned so much from him. He had the unique quality of being such a strong person and yet compassionate. He was able to give individualized instruction even in a large class and constantly encouraged his students to be the best they can be.

I am very saddened by the thought that I won't be seeing him. God Bless him and my deepest condolences to his family and friends With Sympathy, Dan C.

“ R.I.P to a man that attended my weight training class. He was the most fit, intelligent, and nicest guy you could ever meet. He gave his own time in our class to show us some tips and exercises that were extremely helpful. You could tell he was very passionate for helping people. He had the biggest smile and heart.
It's crazy how my friends and I were just talking to him and learning from what he was teaching us. No doubt in my mind that I won't forget him. I'm truly shocked. He was an amazing person inside and out. R.I.P Morris H. Roth, Jr.
I wish the best to his wife, children, brothers, and sisters. God Bless.

“ RIP my friend.
Morris worked for me at his last computer company he was at on 3rd shift. He fit in the group on the first day, fast learner and a workoholic. Not to long I made him my QC tech and my backup lead when I was not at work.
I put my trust in him when he was with us less then a month and he never let me down. Morris was a good leader and we all loved it when he would mess with the guys. Morris sneaking up behind people and scaring them making a few scream like little girls or telling techs to get to work or we fight in the parking lot.
I have lots of good memories in his time with our company and will always remember him. I am really saddened by all this and want to give my condolences to the Roth family.
Morris, thank you for serving our country. You are a hero and a few military buddies we have at work are praying for your family. They respect you and for all that you did at our company and for changing people's lives.
Love You bro, even though you left our company a few guys always missed having you around.
