“ I am so sorry for losing touch once we moved, even though we both had families/children, you were there for me and Tristan through some of the hardest times of my life! And i will forever be grateful for meeting you and your family, and us dancing in my living room when my grammy was alive, and growing up living right next door to each other was always the best! I can not even believe I am writing this, and that you are no longer here, I wish I had took the time to come see you and Ellie the few times I went to my dads, but I know you know I was going through PPD from just having my 3rd baby. The last time we spoke was February 8th and it was about how crazy the places for rent are! Lol! I will cherish our memories, friendship, your goofy laugh and gorgeous blue eyes! And never forget the time you and my mom almost peed yourselves laughing at my when we were talking about Benjamin Franklin and I said "isn't that the guy who invented lighting!" And you and my mom lost it! You were in tears laughing at me. I love you so much! And I will forever miss you so very much!
