“ My thoughts and prayers are with you today Ron and Steve Although, I am unable to be there in person, I am celebrating her life today. I know she would understand because she was a great mom, and knew how much I couldn't wait to become one too. Now with four children, and my entire family being there today, I am the one staying home watching them. I remember 20 years ago meeting Aunt Pat, and was amazed by all she did. From her gardening and her ponds to her crafting. It would take her a long time to decorate each and every room for the holidays, but she loved it. Every Christmas at the party, even though I wasn't her niece, she would always have one of her special handmade crafts just for me. It meant a lot and I told her I would have that “special” Aunt Pat wall of crafts! As I do every Christmas, I proudly display them and put them around. She always made me feel part of the family from day one. Those group photos and the funny ways trying to get all of us in the shot was important to her. We tried to make it go as smoothly as possible, but mostly turned out chaotic and funny. We ended up squeezing in and getting us all in there, and that was all she wanted because it was her family. What she was all about. That is what I will celebrate today. Love, Mickey

“ 250 words maximum is really not enough space to write about a woman who meant so much to so many different people. Aunt Pat was the whip in the family to get the party started, the job done and along the way to remember every birthday of ALL of us, down to her great-nephew, my son. I asked myself how does a person do that? the answer is simple, when nothing is more important than family, it's only natural. You remember to party, you remember to help and you remember to celebrate their milestones! An artist, a comedian, a hard worker, creative and thoughtful. So much will be missed about you. I'm glad to have had you in my life and will never forget all the good times we shared together, especially our younger years at your beautiful home. 20 years ago she rounded up the troops to help out at our new home so it too would be a beautiful home. That was Feb of 1991 and we practically had to throw her out and have her stop cleaning, but she just wanted to get the job done so we too would have a beautiful home. Believe me, she was the oldest one there, but the last one standing. Today, we live in Florida, and every day I will look at my Pelican at the poolside and think of you, Aunt Pat. We love and will miss you!!!! Beth (McLaughlin)McKenna

“ My thoughts and prayers are with the family during their time of sadness. Heaven needed another angel to watch over us. I will deeply miss my wonderful friend, she had a heart of gold and did so much to help everyone. Her florida friends and neighbors will miss her laughter, her kindness & her beautiful smile. Rest in peace my friend I love you. Your forever friend, Linda

“ My sympathies go out to her family. Pat was a very nice lady who loved tending her flower garden. She always kept her house beautiful. Our neighbor will be missed very much.

“ Dear Ron & Family,
My heartfelt condolences go out to you & your family on the loss of our beloved mother, Pat. She loved her husband, her job, her home, but most of all she loved her sons...Fondly, Judy

“ You will be missed Aunt Pat, more than you know. I will cherish and always think back on the times we've spent together. You had such a wonderful spirit and zest for life that was very inspirational to all of us.

You never forgot a birthday because you were so thoughtful. You made the best brownies in the world, not to mention the amazing Easter baskets you made for us with your homemade candy! I will always remember singing with you at Christmas parties, and talking on the phone for hours! You will always hold a special place in our hearts.

“ Sister Pat,
I hurt so badly. Just the thought of not seeing you anymore. You were the best Big sister anyone could ever ask for. I'm going to miss you so much. Thanks for always looking out for us.
Love you. Brother Joe.
