“ Raija too soon you have left. As the years have one by one taken families through the veil to await the reunions on the other side. In this great cycle of living and passing you left us too soon to be with those that loved you. They who had gone before to greet your coming. Those left behind that knew you and loved you grieve your passing now. They can be assured you are only waiting to greet them as they each in their own time make the journey again to be with you. You were a gift to all who knew you, a treasure to some. You are greatly missed. You are loved. You are never gone. You are never forgotten.
