“ Dear Barb and Family, So sorry to hear about Josh and Bob. I remember when we were looking at houses when you were engaged and I asked Bob how to spell your last name and he didn't know! I told him he better learn - fast! Please know that you are in my thoughts and prayers, Barb. Sincerely, Lynda Hughes

“ Barb, I'm don't know if you remember me, but my wife and I sat across from you and Bob at one of the Cipriani Christmas parties. I had the honor of working with both Josh and Bob in their time at Cipriani Builders, and Bob was one of the best finish carpenters I ever had the pleasure to work with. Years ago, I was asked to develop standards and practices for the company. When it came to the finer points, I consulted Bob, as I considered him the best among us. Also, his commitment to his clients was remarkable. I worked with Josh for a only a short time, but of all the young men learning the trade with us, he was the most eager to learn and the most capable of learning of all. I can't fathom the depth of grief you must be feeling, but I hope that time actually does heal all wounds, like the cliché says. We are all still in shock.

“ Bobby what's up? I still love you. I Think it is better for you now you are free kid. I know you were down on your luck and had a hard time with all this stuff. It was not eazys when Josh went. That would have killed me if I would have lost one of my kids. Pop said it all we live till we die. Barb I never got to konw you. I do know that my brother did love you with all his hart. I can only ask that you don,t forget me and my family. I know that he is gone but he will never be gone. He always had that big old grin. That you would know he was all ok. I just have to say good bye now and I love you still that you have gone on. PS tell Mom and everbody over there I said Hi. Love Dominick Jr.

“ Barb, Please know our thoughts and prayers are with you and Adam during this difficult time. Dave and I were remembering the first time we met Bob and how he made us laugh with his crazy jokes. Take comfort in knowing that he is with Josh now and they will both watch over you as you go through this difficult time. Please call me if you need ANYTHING at all. Love Debbie, Dave and family

“ Barb, Adam and Family, There are NO words I can muster to explain how deeply saddened we are for losing Bob. Always remember the good times! I know I will because I still laugh out loud and smile when I think of them. Life is a rollercoaster with ups and downs. We, unfortunately, have to roll with the punches, but always keep your faith and smile and remember the good you have in life. Should you need ANYTHING please don't hesitate to call. I'm available 24-7 and live right around the corner. Hopefully Bob didn't tell Jay Cipriano I fell through the ceiling on Lawton Ave that one day, especially after Bob warned me not to. "Eric, Eric, Eric what the heck did you do . . . go outside in my truck and get the spackle and a piece of drywall!" "Bob the Builder" will forever be in our hearts! All our love, Eric, Danielle, Eric Jr. and Tommy Wood
