“ For as long as I remember Uncle Rod (or Uncle Bobby as we called him) was always my favorite uncle. (Except maybe when I was a toddler and he'd pick me up by my ankles and hold me upside down.) He was younger than most of my Mother's other siblings so he spent more time interacting with all the kids at various family events. He would always make us laugh and mesmerize us with all his magic tricks. His house was always the most fun to visit as he sincerely loved having company and entertaining. We also always enjoyed having him visit us and my Mom always made him her famous Sauerbraten for dinner. I'm grateful that I went to visit him somewhat recently and spoke with him on the phone at Christmas time. Which reminds me that whenever he called me he would disguise his voice and say my name with a slow, deep scary tone. I'm sure he will be sorely missed and remembered fondly by everyone whose hearts he touched during his long life. Love, prayers and deepest condolences to Aunt Linda and the family. Gary W.

“ Coming from a large family (4 sisters and 2 brothers), Uncle Rod has many surviving nieces and nephews. He is a favorite of many of us. Some of my fondest memories of growing up on Long Island, NY in the 1950's include spending time with Uncle Rod, who lived nearby. Christmas was always special at large family celebrations in Queens, NY (Grandmother Meyerhoff's house), where Uncle Rod's caring personality made us all so glad to be together at his favorite holiday.
