“ Ryan was a few years older than myself but my brother and I were MHR Hawks and we were also Gloucester Catholic Rams. Ryan was closer with my brother age wise but we played basketball together more times than I could count. My brother passed away this past November and Ryan was the very first person to show up at Bouchers' to pay his respects to my brother. That was the first time I saw him in a long time but he knew who I was and it meant so much to my family and myself that he was there, the first one there, I will never forget it. He came right up to us to expressed his condolences and shared memories of MHR, Gloucester Catholic and just life. You will surely be missed an I pray you and my brother are up there shooting threes and playing ball. My condolences to the family. May you rest in peace Harbs.

You will be missed.

Sincerely,

Ryan, Maura, Tony, and Marypat Cullen.

“ Harbs was the most loyal friend anyone could have. You could tell him anything, and there would be 0 judgement, just love. Always had a smile on his face and would call you just to see how your day, week, month was going. And you could tell he really wanted to know, and was legit happy for you if you shared good news. There’s a movie line that perfectly sums up Harb’s approach to friendship. One guy says to the other “I need your help. I can’t tell you what it is, you can never ask me about it later, and we’re gonna hurt some people.” The other guys response after a very short pause ...”whose car are we gonna take?” Harbs would never hurt anyone, but he would go to the ends of the earth to help his friends. Restveasy Harbs, I love yea. And you and Dio stay out of trouble!

“ Ryan was 1 of a kind. My first encounter with Ryan was reffing a 3 rd grade game after school on Fridays at MHR. Ryan drove right before halftime running right over a kid banking a shot off as the horn blew. I called an Offensive foul on him and the basket was denied. He went over to his Mom very upset. But Ryan played on our Varsity team from the 6 th grade. He was very determined and won many games for us over those 3 years. None bigger than his 8 th grade Championship game against St. Teresa. Ryan kicked the ball off his foot and Teresa tied the game. With 10 seconds left he dribbled to half court as we called timeout. He came to the Bench and he told Coach Bellotti and myself, Don't worry I got this ! The ball inbounded to him. Ryan dribbled to the top of the key , Pump faked his man and Banked in the winning score to end the game. That was Harbs for sure. We kept in touch over the years and we showed one another total respect. Now he's shooting 3 s and Mark DIO IS REBOUNDING FOR HIM BEHIND THE PEARLY GATES. RIP Harbs With your TEAMMATES !!
