“Today was a beautiful tribute to such a humble and wonderful man. Tom touched so many lives, in so many ways. He moved others to be the best versions of themselves, not only in his words but in his actions. He never lost sight of the blessings he had: his family, his friends, his faith & his students who looked up to him and called him SBN. Lucky are we to have known him. We will keep the entire Brnich family in our thoughts and prayers during this difficult time. May Tom rest in peace with God and those he loved who have been called home before him.

“Throughout my year's training with SBN Brnich, I learned many lessons. Whether they were about karate or more personal lessons. He taught everyone to be confident, respectful, and through actions, kind to everyone. He was a major role model in my life and many others. He helped shape the person I am today and the person I will grow to be. May he rest in peace in the kingdom of God. -CJ Tyszka

“ There was always some reason to postpone going back to visit the old studio, wait till I have more time, would they remember me?, wait till I start training again, waiting until the pandemic was over... Well life doesn't wait and now I won't be able to shake Sa Bom Nim's hand as a man he helped form... I only knew him as a child but it is clear to me that he was loved by so many and I know he will certainly be missed.

Sending thoughts and prayers to everyone in the Brnich family and the extended Brnich Martial Arts family.

“ It was truly an honor and a privilege to have known Tom Brnich, our Sa Bom Nim. He was a man that commanded the attention of anyone who entered his studio, and yet had a calm, reassuring way of getting the best from even the youngest of his students.

Our son, Aidan, began his training at Brnich Karate as a child and has grown into a strong, confident young man through his years of training under Brnich, SBN. Tom was a servant of God, of his family and of the art of Soo Bahk Do, and he dedicated the best of himself to lifting up others. His legacy of inspiration is an indelible record of the lives he touched. We are forever grateful and he will not be forgotten.

My deepest condolences to his wonderful wife Debby Brnich, KSN, his children and grandchildren and the rest of the Brnich family. May you all find comfort in each other, in the memories and in your faith. May he rest in peace.

“ When I was seven years old, I wanted to join a sport. Pretty normal for a kid at that age, right? Well for me, things were different. I had been told from the very beginning that I would never be able to pursue a sport because of the heart condition I was born with. But in that same year of 2012, my parents and I discovered Brnich Karate, and that is where my journey began, not just for martial arts, but for my life as well. I still remember the first time I met SBN Brnich. He was a giant to me at the time, but he was a gentle one that made me feel safe and welcome from the get-go, promising he would take my condition into account; he has never broken that promise. Throughout the years of my training, SBN has taught me countless lessons and morals that have helped shape me into what I am. I learned how to be confident without being arrogant, how to push myself for better results, how to learn from my mistakes instead of denying them, and so much more; I will forever carry what he has taught me. For so many people, including myself, SBN was a north star, a place you look to for guidance and direction. Whenever I asked a question, whether it involved karate or not, it always seemed like he knew exactly what to say. SBN Brnich was a part of so many milestones in my life, and I can't even imagine what my life would've been like without him. I cannot express my gratitude enough to him for welcoming me into the Brnich family as well as the Soo Bahk Do federation. Even though SBN is gone now, the things he taught me and so many others will be passed down for generations to come. May God rest his soul.

“ Brnich Family, words arent enough to convey the loss we share in the passing of such an incredible man. He was a man of GOD who adored his wife speaking of her or his children/grandchildren any time the opportunity was presented. He was a great neighbor , one who would always lend a hand should you need it, or share dialogue of any kind. Tom was a realist not telling you what you want to hear but telling you exactly what it is. Gonna miss you so much..... Family be encouraged Tom is absent from the body but remains in spirit. “ What started as an “activity”, quickly turned into a passion. When I first started karate, I was timid, scared, and unconfident. But as days turned into weeks and weeks into years, I am definitely not the timid, scared, and unconfident seven-year-old boy. Today I am disciplined, respectful, and confident thanks to SBN Brnich. He believed in me when I didn’t believe in myself. He pushed me because he saw that I can do so much more in karate when I was ready to give up. SBN was kind and spirited. I will continue to grow, learn, and do my best, as SBN has taught me. He wasn’t just my instructor, he was my mentor who has shaped me into the person I am today. I will miss you tremendously SBN.

“Who and what has impacted you most in getting to where you are today?” On every college application I completed this past year, this question was asked on nearly all of them. The first answer that came to mind and the only answer that I deem truthful is SBN Brnich and martial arts. I am who I am because of the profound positive influence that Master Brnich has had on me throughout my years of training at his studio. Being a part of the Brnich Karate family is an honor and beautiful experience that I will no doubt carry with me wherever I may go. SBN Brnich, more than anything, has taught me courage and bravery. Being one of the few girls at my level in our studio, SBN Brnich never failed to put a sense of empowerment in me. His comments telling the guys to watch their backs always made me smile and pushed me harder. As I wrote my college application essays, I quickly realized that the 500-word limit that I was so excited about was instead a struggle to stay within when talking about SBN Brnich. From the discipline he instilled in me to the new perspectives and ways of thinking he showed me- SBN Brnich has no doubt shaped me into the woman I am today. SBN Brnich, you will forever be remembered, and missed; thank you for all you have taught me.

“ I always heard that Jesus was regarded as “just the carpenters son” In Bethlehem where He was born and grew up. Jesus! Just the carpenters son...??

As Tom’s sister I’m feeling as under appreciative of my brother’s accomplishments and purpose as those home towners were of the Son of God.

He was just my brother...

after all, I’d seen him in his underwear and played dodgeball with him... and parcheesi...and sometimes fought over stupid stuff... and shared the secret of Santa Claus from our younger siblings...and competed with him for the best dive or flip off the diving board... and I watched him wrestle with another brother to see who would get to wear the Chuck Taylor’s that day...

He was just my brother...

I loved “Tommy”...as we called him growing up... I knew he had a Karate studio and taught many children this art. I knew he was devoted to his own education and advancement... and I knew he loved his family. I knew he loved God and played music and sang... and I also loved his smile and knew he tried always to look on the bright side of things.. handled everything... and tried to stay happy. I knew he loved making our family recipes for HIS family.. and worked very hard to keep his family together... healthy... prepared for life... and feeling loved... very loved.

He tried to give his kids the stability that he had growing up. And I knew it wasn’t always easy and at times it was heartbreaking. And I knew he was the rock... that they all could hold on to.

But he was just my brother...

After reading the other comments and memories I’m sad that I never showed him the respect (out loud) that he earned and deserved for the immense contributions he made in his world and the lasting and loving mark he made on so many people. I’m only now realizing what a fantastic human being he really was...

Because...He was just my brother...

As children we were all (11 of us) taught to be honest, kind, honest, studious, generous, honest, helpful, responsible, loving, and Christian in our hearts... And honest...

I think he paid attention. He learned Very well, and then he taught very well. Though it was too short ..and I know he will miss his wife and kids and especially his grandkids... his life was quite fulfilling and extremely purposeful... He was a great man.

But still.... He was just my brother...

God, I will miss him.

“ *Like many others I'm sure ..I still can't believe this has happened....I know we are not to question God but it's so hard to comprehend why such a good man has been taken home so young. Tom and Deb were always the first faces we saw every Sunday morning at The Word church for many years. Everything could have been going wrong that morning and he would still greet you with that big smile of his! And on the days you just wanted to give up he wouldn't let you...he was the most encouraging man I know. My heart is just breaking for the entire family. Please know that you all will be in my daily prayers and as the weeks go by if there is anything I can do that could help in any way please call me and I will be there. I know the pain of losing My Mom, Dad, Brother and a friend and as painful as they are I can't imagine losing a spouse. God Bless you all.

His training made me the person I am today, and without his studio I don't know where I would be right now. I owe him a lot; Discipline, Respect, and Gratitude. He did a lot for me, but the most meaningful thing was build a ramp for my father, rest his soul, back in August of 2019. Myself, my father, and my family were so incredibly happy for that great deed he did that month. He was a great man.
