“ Well Lovekins - This has just been way to hard! Just when you think your prepared your not. That day replays over and over again in my head! Britni and I were just talking about it the other night! Honey you would be so proud at how wonderful of a mom Britni is and our grandson is getting so big! As of course is Billys crew of boys! He is a true follower of you! You instilled so much in your sons head trust me he is and always will be a fine man! You proved yourself all the way to the end and stood by your convictions, such a strong man you were! Sorry for the things I could not change, tho you believed so highly in! Thank you for all the wonderful years, you really did my heart good! Prayers always for you and your family, because your not here does not mean you do not need prayers and your family has suffered so much! Hope for maybe just maybe MD Anderson is one step closer to understanding and a cure for Head and Neck cancer...(hopefully for all cancers). Belief... that no matter how bad or horrible things may get, if you are strong willed, you can leap as many mountains like they were hills just to have it your way! Just because you are no longer here does not mean you are not living on! With that my love - I really must say you had it your way, with your voice, your heart and your strength - right up to the very end of April 21,2016! Rest in Peace and fly high my love, you earned your wings - now fly high. Thank you for allowing me to take care of you, from day one till the end Billy, there were so many days you tried to apologize for being a burden, but this my love and friend is from the heart.... YOU WERE NEVER A BURDEN TO TAKE CARE OF..... I do not know how you faced everyday with such a heavy presence of your life ending at any time... and yet, you smiled, laughed, joked and still gave love to so many of us right till the very end! Honey I could go on and on, I wrote on here so many times and then erased but this ones for you kid! Love you!
